Allen Greenberg has 20 years of experience in analyzing and advocating for sustainable U.S transportation policy at the national and regional levels from both inside and outside of government. For the last twelve years, Allen has been employed as a senior policy analyst at the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA), where he plays a leadership role with the Value Pricing Pilot Program and the Urban Partnership Program, including soliciting and managing transportation pricing pilot initiatives.

Prior to joining FHWA, Allen spent two years at the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency Office of Policy, where he directed the Transportation Partners Program, which provided grants and technical assistance to national not-for-profit organizations promoting local sustainable transportation initiatives. Allen has authored seven peer-reviewed research papers covering a very broad array of issues related to pay-as-you-drive insurance. Allen holds a Masters in Urban and Regional Planning from the University of Virginia and a Bachelor of Science in Public Policy and Management from Carnegie Mellon University.

Attendance is capped at 20 people. The first 20 people will be accepted. Please rsvp to ce2@cmu.edu
